Heat Tape Reminders

With colder weather approaching, please make sure your heat tape is plugged in and working. Just because the light is on, does not mean it's working. The line should be warm to the touch. If your heat tape is not working, your lines will freeze and you will not have any water. It could also cause your lines to burst and replacing water lines can be very expensive. In addition, if the water meters are damaged due to the resident's negligence, the resident is required to pay for the replacement of a new meter. That cost is approximately $500.

Snow Removal

Snow must be shoveled from your driveway within 24 hours of any snowfall. Please make sure your cars are not blocking the road (unless your community does not have off street parking). Our snow removal contractors do their best to not inconvenience our residents. However, there are times that snow could be plowed and your driveway could be blocked. We apologize and try to avoid this if at all possible, but with significant snow falls this can sometimes occur. Please make sure your cars are completely pulled into your driveway.

Decorations

While we encourage and enjoy seeing your Christmas lights and holiday decorations, we want to remind you that what goes up must also come down. Holiday decorations should be removed no later than January 10th.

Health Benefits of House Plants

Plants can help fight colds: Indoor plants have been shown to reduce cold-related illnesses by more than 30%. This is due to their effect of increasing humidity levels and decreasing dust.

Indoor plants provide clean air and help to remove pollutants including VOCs that cause headaches, nausea, and more.

Filling your home with plants can decrease or eliminate headaches. With plants, you're much less likely to be breathing the kind of stuffy, stale air that contributes to headaches.

House plants can contribute to a feeling of wellbeing, making you calmer and more optimistic. Studies have shown that patients who face a garden view in their hospital rooms often recover more quickly than those facing a wall.

Plants can improve your mental health: Caring for a living thing can help when you're depressed or lonely, giving you a purpose.

People with plants in their homes have less stress, and plants have been known to contribute to lower blood pressure.

Plants can reduce carbon dioxide: During photosynthesis, plants draw carbon dioxide from the air. Removing this substance can help prevent drowsiness from elevated levels.

Plants can offer treatment: Some indoor plants, like aloe, can be applied to skin and offer pain relief.

Plants can prevent allergies: Exposing children to allergens such as plants early in life can help them build a tolerance and immunity to the allergen. It works like a custom allergy shot.

Plants can make your brain work better: Potted plants and flowers can improve your idea generation, mood, and more.

Plants can clear congestion: Eucalyptus in particular can help clear phlegm and congestion from your system. In fact, eucalyptus is often found in congestion remedies.

Plants are natural humidifiers: Instead of buying a humidifier machine to soften the air, just bring in a plant or two.

Plants can improve your sleep: Gerbera daisies give off oxygen at night. Filling a vase in your bedroom with these flowers can improve your night's rest.

Meet Our Staff

Alissa Dull
Clerical and Inspections

Alissa Dull has grown up surrounded by A. Hunter. As Lisa's daughter, and being the name sake of the company, A. Hunter is in her blood. Alissa graduated in 2013 from Annville Cleona and obtained her CNA License. She has always had her goal set on working in the health field. She continues her education to obtain her RN. Alissa is also a trainer at several gyms. In addition to going to school for her RN, training, and being a full-time mom of a busy 3 year old, she is also in the process of obtaining her Real Estate License. Alissa does some of our community inspections and does all the clerical work for those inspections. She is learning the business and is an absolute asset to A. Hunter.

Do You Have a Title to Your Home?

We hear many residents claim they do not have a title to their manufactured home. In Pennsylvania, having a title to your home is almost equivalent to having a title for your vehicle. Even if you have a sales agreement, it does not necessarily mean you own the home unless you hold the actual title. Below is an article I found and wanted to share with you. If you have title issues, you can contact me and I may be able to assist you or point you in the right direction.

4 Common Mobile Home Title Issues (& How to Best Fix Them) In almost every state, mobile homes and manufactured homes are transferred from buyer to seller via a slip of state-issued paper called a title. If the mobile home is a single-wide, then there will be only one title; however, if the home is a double-wide or triple-wide, then two or more titles should be accounted for.

A mobile home title will be issued from the state in which the mobile home resides. The title outlines pertinent information, such as the home's vehicle identification number, serial numbers, make, model, year built, owner's name, lien holder's info and much more. A mobile home title is nearly equivalent to the title of your personal vehicle. A mobile home title should be kept private and stored in a safe place.

If a mobile home seller has a clear title with no liens, there will be little resistance in transferring the mobile home ownership from the current seller to the new buyer.

Depending on your state, a mobile home title is typically transferred at your local Department of Motor Vehicles, Town Clerk, or motor vehicle administration.

Oftentimes while mobile home investing, you will be faced with challenges concerning a mobile home's title(s) and correctly transferring them into your possession. Common title problems arise due to a title being lost, the actual owner on title not being present, the title being missing or the current seller not yet putting the title into their name from when they bought the home, along with multiple other situations due to common mistakes.

1. The title is lost or missing.

If the current seller is the legal owner of record, then there is a simple and easy process to obtain a duplicate title. Call your local mobile home titling agency to inquire about specific steps moving forward. Typically, the owner of record needs only to provide proof that he or she is the owner and pay a small fee.

2. The title is missing and the seller is not the actual owner. Sometimes when a new buyer closes on a mobile home, they do not immediately run down to transfer the title into their ownership. This happens for many reasons; however, legally the buyer is not the true owner until the title is registered into his/her name, or an entity he or she controls. In these cases, it is not good if the title(s) are then lost or go missing.

a) Is the owner available?

- If yes: If the owner is available, you must contact them immediately. Many times they will agree to obtain a duplicate copy of the mobile home title(s) if you pay for this small cost. The legal owners (prior sellers) will do this in order to transfer the home out of their name so they are not liable for taxes or accidents on a property that they didn't think they still owned.
- If no: If the owner is not available, then they must be tracked down in order to proceed ahead. A private eye or skip tracer may be helpful in tracking down the current owner.

Pro Tip: You will see occasions when buyers and sellers have "transferred ownership" via a separate piece of paper known as a Bill of Sale. A Bill of Sale acts as a meeting of the minds and as a receipt typically given when selling personal property. While this process may be sufficient for the buyer, seller and even park manager, it is not sufficient enough to transfer legal ownership from one person to another. The original owner is still the legal owner and can come back any time to take possession of his home.

b) The owner passed away.

Do you have the owner's power of attorney for handling this property or a death certificate and immediate family? If yes, then you will likely be able to obtain a duplicate title by filing the correct forms with your state. If you do not, then you may want to ask your state the best course of action moving forward to obtain legal ownership of this mobile home. Obtaining clear title may or may not be possible.

Pro Tip: Always verify with your state that yearly taxes have been paid and are current. If a seller has not transferred a title into his or her name, then he or she may not be up to date paying taxes.

3. The title is present, but the seller is not the actual owner. This scenario is the most common hurdle you will see as a used mobile home investor. In situations like this, your seller will be in physical possession of the current original mobile home title; however, it may or may not be signed and dated by the buyer(s) and seller(s).

- If the true owner on title has already signed on the seller's line, then simply have your seller sign as buyer and quickly transfer the title into the current seller's name. Once the seller is the actual owner, they can now transfer their clear title to you without worry. Call your state to verify that this double transfer can be completed in one day.

- If the true owner has not signed on the seller's line, then this must be completed before the title can be legally transferred into the purchaser's name. Track down the legal owner to have his or her signature placed on the seller's line.

Pro Tip: Avoid forging documents. If you can't find the legal owner listed on the title, it may be tempting for you or your seller to forge the legal owner's signature on the title. Some people can rationalize that this is a victimless crime. With that being said, it is still a crime and illegal.

- If your seller has a title that is signed by the owner but the buyer's signature lines are blank, it can be tempting to skip over your current seller and transfer the title from the legal owner straight to you. While this can technically be done, most states consider it illegal, as you are skipping the chain-of-title and not placing the home into your current seller's name first. You may not get caught; however, do this at your own risk.

Pro Tip: Be aware that most states charge a late fee for delaying the transfer of a mobile home title from a buyer to a seller if not completed within X number of days. This late fee will be paid when the title is eventually transferred into the new buyer's name.

4. The title is present, but there are liens still showing.

If there are active liens still on the title, then the owner will not likely be in physical possession of the home's title(s). It is most common for the lien holders to physically hold the title(s) until they are paid off in full. At this point, a new title is issued showing zero active liens, or the lien holder simply signs a "Release of Lien" located on the title or provided on a separate form given to the owner. Both of these methods show the home is free and clear from debt. If you run into a situation where a mobile home seller is in possession of their title with active liens, it is important to understand if this is an error or if there is still money owed on the mobile home. Being present with the seller as they call up the bank or loan servicer to confirm a principal balance pay off will answer this question. Once you know the amount of the lien you can decide to move forward accordingly.

Pro Tip: Always call your state to verify the mobile home's VIN or serial numbers and confirm if there are any active liens showing on the title. Some states will have this information at their fingertips, and other states will not be as technologically advanced.
